Request to Garðabær to renovate or replace the Þórsmörk garage

The International School of Iceland (ISI) is awaiting a response to its request to build a school on the south-west end of the Þórsmörk property. In the meantime, the school faces severe space shortages in its current location in Sjalandskóli. To alleviate the situation for both schools, ISI is looking for temporary solutions.

ISI hereby formally requests permission to either renovate or replace the garage on the Þórsmörk í Garðabær property. The school is currently using the Þórsmörk building for its youngest students.

Attached is a proposed renovation, created by the architectural firm sei. If the garage were to be completely replaced, the company Hýsi, which specializes in modular units, would be utilized.

On behalf of the International School of Iceland,

Berta L. Faber,
Head of ISI School Board
